

CPHC—Research Panel Session

April 19, 2011

How will the UK Universities of 2021 compare to those of 2011?

What future do panel members see for the well-rounded academic (teacher-researcher) in UK Universities?

Does interdisciplinary research have an appropriate profile within the REF? If not, what should be done about it?

What are new possibilities for future funding of PhD students now that EPSRC don't allow attachments to projects?

What can be done to improve academic/industrial links in order to address the current problems of graduate numbers and skills shortages?
