Professor Sally Fincher

Sally Fincher is Emerita Professor of Computing Education in the School of Computing at the University of Kent. Her work is centrally concerned with the teaching and learning of Computing, with particular emphasis on teachers and teaching practices.

Sally has worked on several major computing education projects, such as the Bootstrapping Research in Computer Science Education series, and the Disciplinary Commons project. She recently edited the Cambridge Handbook of Computing Education Research and is on the editorial board of CACM.

She is a proud link in the chain of Suffrage Science, a National Teaching Fellow, a Senior Fellow of the UK Higher Education Academy and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts.