Dr. James Shuttleworth – Coventry University

Dr. James Shuttleworth is a Computer Scientist that has moved into the field of digital transformation and skills analysis. Currently serving as the Director of the Institute of Coding and Operations Director of the Electric Revolution Skills Hub at Coventry University, he has a long history of work focused on advancing digital capabilities and supporting the evolving needs of industries worldwide.